ART STUDIO COLLECTION

The Art Studio Collection is a line of porcelain designed by contemporary Russian artists. Their works often move away from the traditional forms and shapes of classical porcelain, and display the virtuosity of the artist's imagination. Almost all of these designs are manufactured as limited edition products. The Imperial Porcelain Manufactory is proud to work with such artists as Tatyana Afanasyeva, Nelly Petrova, Inna Olevskaya, Galina Shuliak and Sergey Sokolov.

Tea Service «Arc»

Fine bone china
Hand-cast
Overglaze hand painting
Gold, silver. Gold-etching

Author T. Afanasyeva

This set reflects the artistic traditions of Saint-Petersburg. It symbolizes hope and faith in future. The laconic design sets off the whiteness and transparency of bone-china. It emphasizes the originality of form that resembles the first cup made by the creator of Russian porcelain in the18th century Dmitry Vinogradov. The «Arc» is a strikingly modern design that is a part of the elite collection of the Imperial Porcelain Manufactory.

Tea Service «Talisman»

Fine bone china
Hand-cast

Author Eva Zeisel

At the age of ninety artist Eva Zeisel (1906) created Talisman design for the Imperial Porcelain Manufactory. It is, without doubt, one of the most beautiful designs ever made for Imperial Porcelain. The unadorned simple colour, allied to the fluent forms of the porcelain, produces a timeless elegance. The deliberate lack of painting absolutely emphasises the innate qualities of fine porcelain. Each item of this unique service is made from a single block of porcelain, without additional details.

The Butterflies Collection comprises 32 decorative plates with stylized images of different species of butterfly. The series takes its inspiration from «botanical» porcelain made at the Imperial Porcelain Manufactory during the eighteenth to the nineteenth centuries, and used as dessert items for the Imperial palaces.
The skillfully executed painting is fashioned by hand and is distinctive for its use of paints containing precious metals. The bright blue colour of cobalt for example on the outer contours enhances the decorativeness of the central motif, creating the effect of a bright picture inside a frame.

Serie of figurines «Horses»

The figurines belong to the exclusive series of wonderful porcelain reproductions of the five most gracious horse-breeds. The artist mastered an uncanny precision to meticulously reproduce in porcelain graceful elegance of these breeds. Snow-whiteness of porcelain underscores every vein, every muscle, and tension of energy of the horses.

Tea-coffee service «Argo»

Hard porcelain, underglaze cobalt
Overglaze hand painting
Gold

Author G. Shulyak

Cast into a traditional shape this service exudes the spirit of wanderers poetically combining myths of the ancient Hellas with the freedom of boundless seas. Argo was a ship with golden oars built for heroes, with the help of gods Argo became the strongest and fastest ship challenging any dangers. Ingenious combination of underglaze and overglaze painting creates a wondrous picture where a contrast between blue, white and intense red both mesmerizes and antagonizes the viewers.

Selected works by Inna Olevskaya

Inna Olevskaya have been working in workshop of the Imperial Porcelain Manufactory for more than 35 years. During this period she created works of art, combining traditions of painting and sculpture of various epochs. Her symbolic objets embody the freedom of mind of an artist-creator who sees unity of the wolrd culture through the prism of individual perception of time. The artist's works can be found in collections of the State Hermitage Museum, the State Russian Museum, the Russian Museum of Applied arts and in foreign collections.
